A Reflection on Lent by Sr Katherine Stone MGL

[In Pieta, Lenten Program 2024, Catholic Archdiocese of Wollongong.]

In the history of Israel and even the church, the wilderness (or desert) has traditionally been a place an encounter with God. Moses, the people of Israel, Elijah, John the Baptist, Jesus himself - for millennia men and women of prayer have taken themselves into the desert in order to be rid of all distraction and encounter the living God. Each Lent we, too, follow the Holy Spirit into our own experience of "wilderness", not to prove to God or ourselves that we can go 40 whole days without coffee or chocolate or alcohol, but to encounter the living God. The things we give up help us to create the wilderness experience. Without them, we have less to distract us from prayer, and thus from encounter with God. Well that's the idea anyway. In my experience, it's much easier to rid ourselves of chocolate than to rid ourselves of the desire for chocolate. And so, in the wilderness, we are prey to temptation, which is ultimately trying to get us to settle for less than what we had set out for: a simple fix of chocolate, rather than allowing my physical desire to point me to the deeper reality of my inner, spiritual desire for God.

Alongside this, we also discovered the wild beasts. They're actually living in all of us all of the time, but they tend to behave in a more civilised manner when we feed them with regular coffee and take the edge of their appetites with alcohol or Netflix. But without those distractions, we see more of our inner wild beasts in their natural ferocity: our laziness, impatience, temper. How is it in all of this chaos that we have any hope of meaningful encounter with God? On the face of it, doesn't seem like Jesus had an encounter with God in the wilderness either. Looking more closely, however, we see that "the angels looked after him". The only other time that we hear of angels ministering to Jesus was in a similarly bleak place - his agony and Gethsemane. In the places of his deepest struggles and weakness, Jesus encountered the compassion of God.

Perhaps for us, too, it is only when we let go of our distractions and face our weaknesses and struggles that we can experience God's compassion. This might be in the form of "angels" that God sends to look after us: the person who allowed us to enter the heavy traffic, the one who got our washing in before it rained, the listening ear that was present to our struggles, the word of wisdom that gave us hope to hold onto.

Perhaps our daily focus this Lent could be on naming the "angels" - the tangible experiences of God's compassionate love and mercy for us during this wilderness experience. Rather than giving all of our attention to our temptations and the wild beasts inside, let's choose to recognise where we have encountered God's saving compassion.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

Today we stand in footsteps millennia old. May we acknowledge the Elders, families and forebears of the Kulin Nations, who are the traditional custodians of our parish land, whose cultures and customs have nurtured, and continue to nurture, this land since men and women awoke from the great dream.

We acknowledge their continued deep spiritual attachment and relationship to this country and commit ourselves to the ongoing journey of Reconciliation.

WARM WELCOME

Welcome to all who celebrate the Eucharist with us today, to the church communities across our parish and a special welcome to all who happen to be visiting our Parish.

SAFEGUARDING COMMITMENT

Our Parish supports the recommendations of the Royal Commission and all endeavours to bring healing to and justice for the victims of abuse. Our Parish Leadership & Development Team and Safeguarding Committee work proactively to ensure the safety of all children, young people and vulnerable adults in our community.

There are a range of important and interesting resources on the Church noticeboards and on our website supporting and highlighting Safeguarding in our parish.

EVOLVING CATHOLICISM AND THE SYNOD

Catholicism is experiencing a change of era like no other. A revitalised narrative is needed to offer a fresh vision to the faithful still in the pews and rekindle what embers remain among those no longer engaged. The announcement of the Synod was widely welcomed with many Catholics working long hours to provide submissions that expressed their 'joys and hopes, griefs and anxieties.' We now look to the Synod to offer genuine renewal. Australasian Catholic Coalition for Church Reform and Garratt Publishing present The Synod on Synodality - Evolving Catholicism and the Synod convocation which will focus on the state of play since the first Assembly and the lead up to the second Assembly in October 2024.

Leading the discussion will be Francis Sullivan and Kevin Liston. We hope you can join us as we build this new way of being Church. Event details:

When: Thursday 22 February 2024

PRAYER FOR THE FIRST WEEK OF LENT

Jesus, the spirit hurried you from the Jordan river to the desert and then, in Galilee, to preach the coming of the Kingdom.

May the spirits turn our hearts, too, to hear your call to us in turn to draw you to the people whom we meet by the silence of a peaceful heart,
by the gentle hands of friendship,
by the faithfulness of presence,
by the courage to stick by the despise,
and by the match between our words and lives.
May we follow you along the winding road that curls through joy and sadness, through delight and disappointment and through death with you to life with you forever. Amen.

IN SUPPORT OF THE BEAUTY OF MUSIC AND THE WORK OF BASP

Bring friends and family to enjoy harp and piano in a fundraising concert featuring our own 'resident' harpist at St Columba church, Katia Mesatrovic and Sacred Heart pianist, Paul Healy; two people of immense musical talent. This will be a prelude for Katia who is soon to travel to play in the semi-finals (and hopefully finals) of the World Harpist Concert in Europe. Entrance to the event will be by donation, all of which will be donated to the Brigidine Asylum Seekers' Project (BASP). So come along and bring your family and friends to appreciate and support this wonderful music, and the work of BASP in caring for one of the most marginalised groups in our society. Event details:

IMAGINING OUR FUTURE TOGETHER BEGINS THIS WEEK: WALKING TOGETHER TO NEW LIFE

Walking Together to New Life* is the theme of our parish Lenten journey. It not only refers to a spiritual renewal, the hallmark of Lent but also a parish renewal.

Over the past few weeks, we have been talking at the Masses and in the newsletter about the work of the Discernment Group (DG) on our 'Roadmap' - the structural plan which guides us into the type of parish we would like to maintain and grow. The Archdiocese has its own plan how parishes need to evolve in this era of change and this will impact us, for example, we may have to share personnel (priest, pastoral worker and office manager) with another parish. However, our parish renewal is more than simply reacting to the Archdiocese plans because we have taken the opportunity to explore what we have and what we love and importantly, what we could be like and want to be like. Starting this week and for the next four weeks, the DG turns to those of us in the pews and invites everyone to respond to a set of speculative questions around the areas of parish service and imagine what could be possible. The idea of this is to stimulate some new thinking around how things could be. We are working towards a parish Visioning workshop, planned for 18 May, Pentecost Eve.

How will this work in the Masses during Lent?

At homily time, Fr John will give a small introduction to the theme, this week: Faith Formation and Liturgy, and how the Gospel relates to it. One of the DG committee members will then give a brief introduction and explain how the next 8-10 will work and invite people to read the questions, chat to others in smalls groups of two - four people and write your thoughts on the post-it pads provided in the pews. If you do not wish to chat with another, that's fine but we still encourage you to write down some thoughts. These will be collected in baskets and later pinned up on the boards in the church. If you have thoughts later, you are welcome to email them into our office manager: Jane on jane@shscparish.org.au

We have listed all the questions for the five weeks and you are welcome to provide some thoughts on any of them at any time via email. Know that this process is not expected to extend the duration of the Masses. Visitors are encouraged to also participate; all thoughts are welcome.

We are on a journey, a pilgrimage together into a new way of being church in a time of change. We seek to have ownership over that process and vision. We hope all will embrace the opportunity to be part of this experience.

'What If...' Questions for Parishioners about What We Could Be Like As A Parish

Week One: On Faith Formation and Liturgy:

What if...

1. We had an opportunity to explore our faith in a way that is vibrant and nurturing for us and also attracts new people and those who have left their faith. What might it look like?
2. We had lay leaders who took our worship out of the church and into the community? What might it look like?

'What If...' Questions for Parishioners about What We Could Be Like As A Parish Week Two: On Welcome, Hospitality and Belonging: What if...

1. A stranger approaches you outside the church, curious about what is there inside for them: What can you offer, that will encourage the stranger to enter with you, and return at another time?
2. What if we create a spirit of belonging for all, no matter what their life circumstances or where people are on the 'scale of faith'? What would this look like?

Week Three: On Leadership and Governance: What if...

1. We all shared the leadership of the parish, how would it look like?
2. What if we thrived without a priest to lead us?

Week Four: On Pastoral Care What if...

1. We all took responsibility for care and wellbeing of those in most need in our parish and beyond. What would be possible?

Week Five: On Community Outreach What if...

1. The wider community knew about the gifts within our parish?
2. Those on the edges or outside the parish were at the centre? What would our parish be like?
